Love's Farm Community Centre CIO (w/a Love's Farm House)	£440	£440	The funding will be used to pay for an Electrical Installation Condition Report to check the condition of the fixed wiring in Love's Farmhouse community centre, so that the building can be designated as a Warm Space. The Trustees of Love's Farmhouse were keen to participate in Huntingdonshire District Council's Warm Spaces scheme by providing a heated space within the Love's Farmhouse community centre where local residents could come to keep warm, work, socialise and meet other local people while saving on their domestic energy bills. The cost-of-living crisis has hit the whole community hard, and the Trustees have heard anecdotally that many residents are struggling to make ends meet, particularly as 40% of the development is made up of social housing. Love's Farmhouse has excellent facilities including free wifi, a micro library and heavily subsidised cafe sessions, and in our opinion, it is an ideal place for a Warm Space. There was one barrier to moving forward with the project. Love's Farmhouse is a relatively new building, which opened in 2015. The Trustees had not been aware that they were required to carry out regular fixed wiring tests on the building once it had been open for 5 years, particularly as the building's 5-year anniversary fell within a Covid19 lockdown when it was closed for a lengthy period. When the Trustees tried to sign up for the Warm Spaces scheme, they were unable to tick the box to confirm that an Electrical Installation Condition Report (EICR) had been carried out to check the fixed wiring in the building and therefore they could not proceed. Conversations with the Warm Spaces Team at Huntingdonshire District Council confirmed that the building could not be added to the Warm Spaces list unless an EICR was in place.
